Library Board Policy Committee Patron Use of Library Spaces November 19, 2025

Background:

This policy communicates the library's commitment to safe and welcoming spaces for our patrons. It outlines the roles and responsibilities of our patrons when they interact within both our virtual and public spaces.

This is a foundational policy; one that is directly connected to several other County and Library policies, as well as State Statutes. Most significantly, this policy is directly connected to the Patron Rules of Conduct administrative policy, which was updated January 2025.

Why This is Important:

"The purpose of this policy is to express the roles and responsibilities patrons have to ensure the library's physical and virtual spaces are welcoming, safe, and secure."

Hennepin County Library's physical and virtual spaces are exceptionally well-used by patrons. Due to the high volume of visits, it is critical that staff are prepared to address behaviors that could impact the safety and security of others.

This policy encompasses all the ways patrons engage in our library, such as interacting with library staff in person, online, or via phone, browsing the collection, picking up holds, attending programming, using public computers and technology, studying at tables, reading in lounge areas, or playing in early learning play spaces.

The data below gives you a snapshot of how active our spaces are:

Note: Library visits measure the number of visits to our 41 physical library locations.

- HCL saw nearly 4.8 million visits to our spaces in 2024, a 29% increase from 2023, and the highest visit volume since 2019. This is 3.7 visits per Hennepin County resident.

Library Administration

12601 Ridgedale Drive | Minnetonka, MN 55305
612-543-8500 | hclib.org

- Through mid-October 2025, HCL has had over 4 million visits, a 1.3% increase over the same period last year.
- An especially fast-growing use of library public space is patron use of HCL's meeting and study room spaces within our libraries, with nearly 71,500 public meeting room reservations in 2024, a 17% increase from 2023, and a 47% increase from 2019. 2025 is projected to be even higher yet, with a 9% increase through April over the same period last year. [Note: This is the most recent data available as this number is not automatically calculated.]
- Patrons also connect with library staff virtually through Ask Us services, with 39,000 interactions in 2024 across call, text, chat, and email.

This data reflects both increased demand from patrons, as they increasingly share that they value space to meet, collaborate, and work. Visits to physical library spaces are not decreasing, even as patrons increasingly borrow materials in digital formats compared to physical materials.

This policy supports staff in making the public library a space where patrons trust staff will provide a safe and secure environment for all.

Engagement:

- In October I met with the Library Youth Advisory Board (LYAC), they shared their thoughts and comments about this policy. Insights from that meeting include:
  - Their overall reaction to this policy was positive. Here is what stood out to them:
    - Appreciated clear roles and responsibilities for patrons; what is/isn't allowed.
    - Stated accountability if "rules" are not followed.
    - Plain language, clearly written, easy to understand.
    - Recognized that some items were more specific than others; this led to a discussion about behavior not always being rooted in intentional "misbehaving". The approach to behavior may depend on the situation and the language of the policy supports that.
    - Appreciation that the policy is regularly reviewed.
  - When asked what was inspiring about this policy, here is what they had to say:
    - Appreciation that time is taken to consider all perspectives
    - Inclusiveness: this policy is for everyone.
    - "All word choices are specific. Effort was put in to make it come out in a specific, yet broad way."
  - When asked what concerned them:
    - The note that parents or caregivers are responsible for kids; the lived experience didn't involve parents or caregivers joining them in their library visit.
  - The question, what is the importance of this policy, how does this policy apply to you?
    - Generally, they like rules so they know what they can/can't do, and so they can let their peers know if they are breaking those rules.
    - They don't think they are the "target audience" for this policy as they agreed that they follow the rules.
    - Having rules makes them feel safe.

- Knowing the rules saves them from embarrassment. They do not want to be called out for not knowing the rules.
- Final question, what guidance and recommendations do you have for the Library Board Policy Committee?
  - Again, they thought the policy was clear and understandable, and they appreciated having an opportunity to share their input and ask questions. They said that this engagement shows respect, and they feel like collaborators.

Known Changes:

- Update Mission
- Update Review Dates

Discussion:

- After reading the draft Patron Use of Library Spaces Policy, what stands out to you? What are your initial thoughts?
- What questions do you have about the policy?
- What implications does this policy have?
- Is anything missing from this policy?
- What changes may be required to this policy?

What Next:

- What further steps should be taken?
  - More information from staff?
  - Questions that require answers?
  - Ready for decision?
- How do you prefer to receive information from engagement?
